System Improvement Plan Narrative

Summary California Child and Family Services Review Process

Child Welfare Services and Juvenile Probation Services began the California Child and Family Services Review in October 2010 with a joint Peer Quality Case Review. Child Welfare Services and Juvenile Probation chose different focus areas for the Peer Quality Case Review; Child Welfare Services focused on Timely Adoption, while Juvenile Probation selected Placement Stability as its area of focus. While the Peer Quality Case Review provided positive feedback on the strengths and dedication of Child Welfare Services and Juvenile Probation staff, it also provided valuable information on areas needing improvement in order to achieve both timely adoption and placement stability.

Many of the findings from San Luis Obispo County's Peer Quality Case Review are reflective of information cited in literature reviews. For Child Welfare Services, the literature review on Timely Adoption identified the need to educate parents on Child Welfare Services and adoption processes and timelines, as well as the need for post-adoption services. Both of these needs were mentioned often in both the peer interviews and focus groups.

For Juvenile Probation, the Placement Stability literature review stressed the value of well trained placement staff and foster parents. It also focused on the importance of youth and family input in the placement process. Peer interviews and focus groups often mentioned the need for the staff at group homes to be well trained and receptive to the needs of youth. Additionally, the interviews and focus groups placed a high importance on the need for youth and family involvement in placement decisions.

After reviewing all of the information gathered during the course of the Peer Quality Case Review, Child Welfare Services identified three issues that were frequently repeated:

- Child Welfare Services gives parents too much time to reunify.
- Child Welfare Services should explore training parents and relatives on concurrent planning and relinquishments/waiving services.
- Child Welfare Services should manage their own adoption finalization calendar.

For Probation, three recurring themes were:

- The need for greater youth and family input and involvement in placement decisions.
- The need to develop more local placement options for probation youth.
- The need for additional training for placement officers in such areas as family finding, family engagement, case planning and concurrent planning.

Following the Peer Quality Case Review, the Child Welfare Services Adoption unit met to discuss the findings and is implementing many of the proposed ideas. Likewise, Juvenile Probation has also taken steps to address needs brought up during the Peer Quality Case Review, such as increased family engagement and training on concurrent planning.

San Luis Obispo County began its County Self-Assessment process in November 2010. A County Self-Assessment Advisory Group was formed comprising of representatives from Child Welfare Services, Juvenile Probation Services, Children's Services Network, San Luis Obispo Child Abuse Prevention Council (SLO-CAP), Mental Health, Family Care Network, California Youth Connection and parent representatives. The Children's Services Program Manager and SLO-CAP Director served as the representatives for Child Abuse Prevention, Intervention, and Treatment (CAPIT), Promoting Safe and Stable Families (PSSF), and Community Based Child Abuse Prevention (CBCAP). The County Self-Assessment Advisory Group oversaw both the planning of the public comment process and the writing of the County Self-Assessment report.

The Advisory Group reviewed the County's performance on all data measures and chose the following three outcomes as those in greatest need of improvement:

- S1.1 No Recurrence of Maltreatment
- C1.1 Reunification within 12 Months
- C4.3 Placement Stability

The community provided input on these outcomes through four community forums held regionally throughout the county. Participants were provided with an overview of the County Self-Assessment process, as well as background information on each focus area. Participants were then given a series of questions relating to each focus area and asked to brainstorm responses in small groups. Additionally, the questions were available in both English and Spanish on the Department of Social Services website. The survey link was emailed to community and staff to gather further input. The responses from both the forums and the surveys are summarized below:

Children are, first and foremost, protected from abuse and neglect

Strengths:

- Social Workers are committed to engaging families to ensure children are safely maintained in their homes whenever possible and appropriate.
- Social Workers are diligent in the continuity of family relationships and connections for children.
- The automated Linkages Referral Notice is used to identify Social Workers and Participant Services staff of families with both an active Participant Services case and an active Child Welfare Services referral or case. This process facilitates collaboration in engaging the family, case coordination efforts, and the provision of services to reduce the risk for future child maltreatment.
- Team Decision-Making Meetings involve families in deciding placement decisions for children to ensure stability and security.
- Child Welfare Services maintains strong collaborative relationships with agencies, such as Probation, Court, Mental Health, Probation, Community Action Partnership of San Luis Obispo County, and Drug and Alcohol Services in order to support families in realizing their potential and providing for their children's needs.

Areas in need of improvement:

- Child Welfare Services needs to improve family engagement efforts by improving the assessment of family situations. This will provide a better understanding of the protection needs of children and provide effective case management.
- Timely and consistent use of Structured Decision Making assessments.
- After care plans are needed to support families in maintaining stability and connecting with community resources for ongoing support.
- Engaging and strengthening the role of fathers in Child Welfare Services by involving them in Team Decision-Making Meetings and case planning.
- Communication efforts need to be reframed to share the various strategies Child Welfare Services has implemented to protect children and strengthen families. Communication needs to be ongoing.
- Increasing collaboration efforts with family advocates, youth, and parent partners.

Strategies for the future:

- Fully utilize Differential Response, particularly Collaborative Response referrals.

- Implement Signs of Safety and integrate with Structured Decision Making, in an effort to provide Social Workers with practice strategies and concrete tools to enhance family participation and equitable decision-making.
- Convene Community Forums on a quarterly basis to educate mandated reporters, provide System Improvement Plan updates, and seek feedback from the community.

Children are maintained safely in their homes whenever possible and appropriate

Strengths:

- Child Welfare Services performs strongly on Timely Social Worker Visits with Child.
- Probation is now entering visits into the Child Welfare Services/Case Management System (CWS/CMS), which will allow for greater tracking of this measure.

Areas in need of improvement:

- Child Welfare Services needs to continue improvement efforts on Timely Response. While there has been past success in this measure, performance is starting to show a downward trend.
- Documentation in CWS/CMS, as visits are not consistently entered within the mandated 48 hour time frame.
- Reducing the length of time of open referrals. Child Welfare Services often keeps referrals open past 30 days, which increases the need for more visits by the Emergency Response Social Worker.

Strategies for the future:

- Work to increase collaboration with and referrals to community partners. This will decrease the need to keep low and moderate risk referrals that will not be promoted to a case open past 30 days.

Children have permanency and stability in their living situations without increasing re-entry to foster care

Strengths:

- Family Maintenance/Family Reunification caseloads are now at the level recommended by Senate Bill 2030, thereby providing Social Workers more time to spend on each case.
- San Luis Obispo County has many pre-placement and after-care services available, such as Therapeutic Behavioral Services, Wrap-Around, Dependency and Juvenile Drug Courts, Full Service Partnership, Court Appointed Special Advocates, Transitional Housing Program, Independent Living Program, Aggression Replacement Training, and Thinking for a Change.
- Child Welfare Services implemented the Quality Parenting Project, which has led to the use of Transition Plans and About Your Child. These tools help with issues related to placement moves.
- Probation has experienced and dedicated Placement Probation Officers who are committed to working to improve placement services.
- Child Welfare Services uses Team Decision-Making Meetings to assist with family engagement with the placement and reunification process.

Areas in need of improvement:

- Timely and consistent use of Structured Decision Making assessments.
- Aftercare planning for both Child Welfare Services and Probation.
- Engaging the family during Probation's placement process.

- While Child Welfare Services has implemented Structured Decision Making for Substitute Care Providers, the system is not fully utilized, and neither the use nor the impact of the assessments is being tracked.
- Development of local placement resources, particularly relatives and non-related extended family members

Strategies for the future:

- Develop supervisory and staff training for Child Welfare Services new hires, as well as staff who are re-assigned to a new program.
- Probation to work with Parent Connection to develop a parenting program specific to parenting delinquent youth.
- Probation to begin using Team Decision-Making Meetings to assist with family engagement with the placement and reunification process. Probation will be able to utilize Child Welfare Services as a resource as they work to implement Team Decision-Making Meetings.
- Child Welfare Services and Probation will work together to develop a specialized recruitment for placement resources for pre-teens and teens.
- Educate both Child Welfare Services and Probation foster youth on the options of continuing in foster care until age 21.
- Partner with Family Care Network to refer eligible youth to their Transitional Housing Placement Program host family program.

The continuity of family relationships and connections is preserved for children

Strengths:

- Child Welfare Services is very successful in placing foster youth with relatives, which often helps to preserve sibling groups.
- Social Workers are very committed to placing with relatives, and work diligently to seek out relatives.
- Child Welfare Services is very successful in placing foster youth in the least restrictive setting. We have very few youth placed in group homes.
- Both agencies have developed procedures for notification of families in compliance with Assembly Bill 938, which requires Social Workers and Probation Officers to exercise due diligence to identify and engage relatives and to provide notice to those relatives when a child is removed from their home.

Areas in need of improvement:

- Both Child Welfare Services and Probation can better support relative and non-related extended family member placements with training and education.
- PRIDE (Parent Resources for Information, Development, and Education) training and Foster and Kinship Care Education are not fully utilized by relative and non-related extended family member placements. The Department of Social Services places primarily with relative and non-related extended family members. While these providers are not required to attend the trainings required of county foster family homes, the Department of Social Services would like to encourage all placement providers to attend, and to develop trainings that appeal to relative and non-related extended family members.
- Probation places most youth in group homes, and needs to improve locating and placing with appropriate relative and non-related extended family members.
- Engaging Probation families and maintaining family connections while youth are in placement.

Strategies for the future:

- Developing a training curriculum for relative and non-related extended family members and educating them on the value of training.
- Develop resources to overcoming barriers to family involvement while in placement.
- Family Finding and Family Engagement training for Probation Officers.

Children receive services appropriate to their educational needs

Strengths:

- Services provided by and relationship with partner agencies, such as Court Appointed Special Advocates and the schools.
- Youth in Action program
- Probation is now utilizing CWS/CMS, which will provide more continuity of information.
- Probation Placement Unit is now co-located with Child Welfare Services.

Areas in need of improvement:

- Social Worker and Probation Officer responsibility for gathering information needed for the Health and Education Passport, and entering the information into CWS/CMS.

Strategies for the future:

- Develop a uniform process for collecting the information needed for the Health and Education Passport, and inputting the data into CWS/CMS.
- Explore use of the SafeMeasures Who's Who Report, which facilitates data collection for Emergency Response Social Workers to review prior to their first interview with the family. The report gathers information on such things as prior history, family information, and collateral contacts.

Children receive services adequate to their physical, emotional, and mental health needs

Strengths:

- Probation is now utilizing CWS/CMS, which will provide more continuity of information.
- Public Health Nurse co-located at the Department of Social Services.
- Child Welfare Services has an established procedure for the use of psychotropic medications.

Areas in need of improvement:

- Consistency of data entered into CWS/CMS.
- Exchange of health records between agencies and placement resources.

Strategies for the future:

- Develop a uniform process for collecting and sharing the information needed for the Health and Education Passport, and inputting the data into CWS/CMS.
- Improve coordination with the Public Health Nurse and Juvenile Hall Nurse.
- Working with area hospitals to ensure that children placed into protective custody are served while their Medi-Cal is pending.

The County Self-Assessment Advisory Group continued to meet to consider all of the feedback gathered during both the Peer Quality Case Review and County Self-Assessment. Child Welfare Services and Juvenile Probation recognize that a variety of perspectives is required if change is to occur in the community's response to vulnerable children and families. Therefore, the San Luis Obispo County System Improvement Plan was developed out of information collected through the Peer Quality Case Review, the County Self-Assessment, input from parents, youth, community partners, Child Welfare Services and Juvenile Probation, and data provided by the Child Welfare Dynamic Report System, SafeMeasures, and internal databases. After a thorough analysis of all input and data, the following recurring themes emerged:

- A need for increased services
- A need for improved communication and collaboration
- A need for staff training
- A need for placement resources, particularly for teens
- A need for greater support and training for placement resources

S1.1 No Recurrence of Maltreatment

Child Welfare Services chose No Recurrence of Maltreatment as a focus for both the County Self-Assessment and the System Improvement Plan. Child Welfare Services' rate of No Recurrence of Maltreatment decreased from 96.1% in March 2010 to 90.9% (229 of 252 children) in December 2010, below the federal goal of 94.6%. Child Welfare Services will continue to focus on prevention and early intervention efforts with community partners to reduce the recurrence of maltreatment.

During the Peer Quality Case Review and County Self-Assessment, areas identified by both the community and staff as in need of improvement included:

- Need for consistent practice in regards to the Structured Decision Making Safety and Risk Assessments
- Increased support for families, through the use of Community Service Aides, Parent Advocates, and Parent Mentors
- Drug and alcohol services, including residential treatment programs
- Domestic violence training and services
- Engaging fathers in services
- Aftercare services

Child Welfare Services has addressed these needs in the System Improvement Plan matrix. Additional supports funded by PSSF and CAPIT that could possibly impact this measure include aftercare planning and post-reunification follow up, respite care, and parent education on such topics as strengthening families, protective factors, coping with stress, health, and nutrition.

C1.1 Reunification within 12 Months (exit cohort)

As of December 2010, Child Welfare Services rate of Reunification within 12 Months (exit cohort) was 69.1%, or 65 of 94 children. Because Child Welfare Services already has practices in place to improve performance, this outcome was not selected as a focus area for the System Improvement Plan. Current practices include Dependency Drug Court and Family to Family efforts, such as Team Decision-Making Meetings, which assist with family engagement in both the placement and reunification process.

For Juvenile Probation, the rate of Reunification within 12 Months (exit cohort) was 36.4% (4 of 11 children) as of December 2010. Juvenile Probation recognizes that improvement is needed in measure C1.1, and chose this outcome as an area of focus for the System Improvement Plan.

For Juvenile Probation, one of the main challenges to timely reunification in San Luis Obispo County is the limited number of placement options for delinquent youth. There are only two group homes in the county. One of these homes also serves both probation and foster youth, resulting in fewer beds for probation youth. The other home takes primarily out of county youth based on a variety of factors. Neither of these programs serves serious substance abusing or sex offending youth, who make up a significant portion of probation placement cases. Furthermore, there are a limited number of licensed foster homes, and very few of those are willing to accept probation youth. The result is that a majority of probation youth being placed end up in out of county group homes. Timely reunification takes meaningful family involvement which becomes much more difficult when the youth is placed far from their home. Team Decision-Making Meetings assist with family engagement in the placement and reunification process and identify and develop relative placement options and identify and develop relative placement options; however, Probation does not currently have any officers trained in Team Decision-Making facilitation. All of these issues were considered in the development of the System Improvement Plan.

Fortunately, there are also strengths that exist to assist with reunification. Both of the group homes in San Luis Obispo County are well run and have good outcomes with probation youth. There is an array of services in the county to assist with reunification, including Wrap-Around services, Therapeutic Behavioral Services, Full Service Partnership, Juvenile Drug Court, Court Appointed Special Advocates and evidenced based programs such as Thinking for a Change and Aggression Replacement Training. Probation also partners with a private provider for the Teens Together program, which provides intensive intervention for higher risk female probation youth. These types of programs provide not only pre-placement services but valuable aftercare options to assist youth in reunifying sooner than would otherwise be possible. As part of the System Improvement Plan, Probation will look into collaborating with Family Resource Centers to developing additional placement supports.

Services funded by PSSF that could impact Probation's performance on this measure include family counseling, family advocates, multidisciplinary team services, parent education and family support services.

C1.2 Median Time to Reunification

While the federal standard for Median Time to Reunification is 5.4 months, Child Welfare Services' rate was 8.4 months as of December 2010. Child Welfare Services has identified the predominant contributing factors that lead to a child's removal from the home as parental mental illness, substance abuse and domestic violence. Although parents may be fully engaged in reuniting with their children, research indicates that drug and alcohol relapses are the norm rather than the exception. Budget cuts have affected the ability to adequately provide both substance abuse and mental health services. Therefore, given the restricted mental health and substance abuse resources in San Luis Obispo County, both reunification and reentry rates may be affected by on-going family challenges and a scarcity of resources.

For Probation, Median Time to Reunification was 13.6 months, as of December 2010. This can partially be explained by the number of children placed in foster homes compared to those placed in out of county group homes. Out of county group home programs tend to take longer to reunify due to a variety of factors, but this is most likely due to the difficulty with family engagement in the reunification process.

While Child Welfare Services and Juvenile Probation will not be focusing on this outcome in the System Improvement Plan, it is expected that many of the strategies developed for other outcomes will improve performance in this measure. For example, activities such as increased collaboration with and referrals to partner agencies that provide domestic violence, mental health and drug and alcohol services will focus services on those issues that are the predominant contributing factors to child abuse and neglect in San Luis Obispo County. Additionally, efforts to improve and facilitate the parent youth connection will aid in family engagement in the reunification process for Juvenile Probation.

C1.3 Reunification within 12 Months (entry cohort)

Child Welfare Services acknowledges that improvement is needed in measure C1.3, as the December 2010 data indicates performance of 34.2% (25/73 children) is well below the federal standard of 48.4%. However, Child Welfare Services has strategies in place to ensure timely reunification within 12 months, including:

- A new county policy to ensure that Exit from Placement Team Decision-Making Meetings occur prior to extended visits and reunification. A usage report shows that Team Decision-Making Meetings historically accounted for only 5% of Team Decision-Making Meetings prior to policy implementation. The current monthly average of Exit from Placement Team Decision-Making Meetings is 20%.
- Closer compliance, use, and application of Structured Decision Making Reunification Reassessments has been discussed, implemented, and tracked.

Furthermore, strengths to assist with Reunification within 12 Months include:

- Lower caseload size for Family Maintenance/Family Reunification Social Workers.
- Exploring and implementing a Father Involvement program to strengthen families, achieve positive outcomes, and assist with earlier reunifications. The Father Involvement project emphasizes alignment of services and engagement with fathers to include them at earlier moments and throughout the life of the case.
- Exploring formalizing partnerships with Family Resource Centers and Services Affirming Family Empowerment (SAFE) teams for additional family support services.
- Aligning services funded by PSSF and CAPIT with Child Welfare Services processes to include family counseling services and other time-limited reunification services.

Therefore, while this outcome is not a focus of the System Improvement Plan, Child Welfare Services will still be working to improve performance. For Probation, factors related to reunification as a whole were identified under Measure C1.1.

C1.4 Reentry following Reunification

Reentry following Reunification was the focus of San Luis Obispo County's 2008 Peer Quality Case Review, as well as the prior System Improvement Plan. Although the data indicates that San Luis Obispo County was on a steady decline toward the national standard over the past 3 years, and even performed below the federal standard, current data indicates that San Luis Obispo County is once again performing above the federal standard. As a result of the prior System Improvement Plan, San Luis Obispo County has implemented practices designed to improve this performance on this outcome and continues to closely monitor progress and refine practice as needed.

C3.3 In Care 3 Years or Longer (emancipation/age 18)

As of December 2010, Child Welfare Services was slightly above the federal standard of 37.5% for this measure. Of those children in care 3 years or longer, 40.9%, or 9 of 22 children, were then either discharged to emancipation or turned 18 while still in foster care. In January 2011, the Quality Parenting project was implemented to strengthen the relationship between Child Welfare Services and all caregivers through recruitment, training and support. These efforts will help to improve performance in this area by creating more stable placements. In addition, San Luis Obispo County has a strong team of Permanency Case Managers who assist foster youth permanency identification and goals, and work to provide essential connections focused on permanency for foster youth.

C4.1 Placement Stability (12 to 24 months in care)

As of December 2010, Child Welfare Services slipped below the federal standard of 86%, with a rate of 84% (199 of 237 children). Per SafeMeasures, as of March 2011 the rate was 85.1% (200 of 235 children) and as of June 2011 the rate was 84.1% (201 of 239 children). It should be noted that the decline below the federal standard is represented by a small number of children. Child Welfare services has many established policies to support success in this measure, and historically has been successful in Placement Stability. Reasons for Child Welfare Services' past success include a policy of placing with relatives or non-related extended family members whenever possible and a revitalized concurrent planning process. Placing children with people they have an established relationship with supports placement stability by maintaining family ties and facilitating family reunification. It can also help to keep siblings together and prevent further disruption by keeping youth in their school and community. Concurrent planning ensures the primary goal of family reunification is pursued, while simultaneously developing an alternative permanency plan for the child. This alternate plan will often include adoption as the major alternative to family reunification. If the family reunification efforts fail, then the alternate plan will already be in place and well on its way to completion. Concurrent planning assists with placement stability by reducing the total period of time a child will either remain in foster care before being reunified with their birth parents or be permanently placed with a family.

The use of Team Decision-Making Meetings from the time of removal through the time that the child leaves placement is another strategy that supports success in this measure. Team Decision-Making Meetings focus on placement issues for children involved or potentially involved in foster care. The meeting involves not only Social Workers and their supervisors in all placement decisions regarding children, but also birth families, community members, resource families, and service providers. Involving caregivers in the placement decision making process provides Child Welfare Services with better information and allows for the caregiver to express any concerns.

C4.3 Placement Stability (at least 24 months in care)

While Child Welfare Services is still working to meet the federal standard for this measure, there has been ongoing improvement since December 2007, when 30.8% of children had two or fewer placement settings. As of December 2010, the rate of Placement Stability was 40.7%, or 48 of 118 children, just slightly under the federal standard of 41.8%. In an effort to achieve more stable placements, Child Welfare Services has implemented policies and processes to support foster homes. A Team Decision-Making Meeting is required before a child is moved from the home or a placement. Structured Decision Making is also utilized to determine safety factors when moves are being considered. Both of these policies, combined with Family to Family goals, have been instrumental keeping placement moves low.

In 2009, Child Welfare Services implemented the use of Structured Decision Making for Substitute Care Providers. Structured Decision Making for Substitute Care Providers includes three assessments, each of which helps Social Workers in making specific decisions regarding the caregiver's ability to provide for a child. It also helps to identify the support that the caregiver will need to successfully meet the child's needs, and the safety of a child's placement. After implementation of the Structured Decision Making assessments, Child Welfare Services results in this outcome began to show consistent improvement.

Another policy benefitting this measure is the opportunity for prospective caregivers to identify what type of home they will provide: Foster Care, Adoption Only, Foster/Adopt, Options for Recovery, Respite or Emergency Placement. This has resulted in more stable placements, as children are matched to a caregiver whose parenting goals reflect the child's circumstances.

Another benefit is that caregivers experience greater satisfaction working with Child Welfare Services. To support Social Workers' efforts in making successful placements for children in care, the Foster Home Administrative Database was created. This database is used by Recruitment, Licensing, Placement and Adoptions Social Workers to provide up to date information on foster homes, from inquiry through placement and adoption.

Ongoing recruitment and retention efforts to attract quality homes will help with continued efforts to improve in this area. Participation in the Quality Parent Project has lead to the creation of policies and processes that strengthen the relationships between county foster homes and Child Welfare Services. The goal of the Atascadero School Placement Empowerment Network (ASPEN) is to develop and maintain a network of pre-approved foster homes within school communities so that placements familiar to youth are available should the need for foster placement arise. Streamlining this recruitment program will enable us to implement ASPEN into the other school districts in the county without creating a significant fiscal impact.

Additional efforts that could help support this area include:

- Strengthening placements with family and friends
- Recently revised State Licensing regulations that support Prudent Parent Standard and allow foster youth to live a more "normalized" life
- Providing training for non-related extended family members
- Providing better information to non-related extended family members by updating the orientation booklet for caregivers to reflect revised regulations
- Pursuing faith based organizations for recruitment of homes who can take sibling groups and teens throughout the county
- Facilitating a meeting between foster parents and birth families to complete tools such as the About Your Child form and the All About Me form. These meetings help to alleviate fears parents and foster parents may have about each other and build relationships between the foster parents and the child's family of origin. In addition, the tools provide caregivers with valuable information about the foster child so that they may better meet their needs. Both the meetings and the tools help to provide a better quality of care for the child and support placement stability.
- PSSF funded Family Preservation services including respite care and family support services provided by community-based organizations

These efforts have been included in the System Improvement Plan matrix as strategies for improvement.

Although meeting or exceeding the state averages and federal standards on most of the placement stability outcome measures, Probation focused on this measure for the Peer Quality Case Review based on concerning trends at the time. Probation has taken steps to address issues that were highlighted during the Peer Quality Case Review, including the need for greater youth and family involvement in placement decisions and the need for additional training for placement officers. Initial placement procedures have been modified to better inform and involve the family, and Placement Officers have attended concurrent planning and case planning trainings.

Child Welfare Services/Probation Narrative

In order to better focus on targeted goals, San Luis Obispo County chose three outcomes to focus on for the 2011-2014 System Improvement Plan. The information collected from the Peer Quality Case Review and the County Self-Assessment led to the decision to focus on S1.1 No Recurrence of Maltreatment, C1.1 Reunification within 12 Months, and C4.3 Placement Stability (at least 24 months in care).

In developing the goals, strategies, and milestones for the System Improvement Plan, Child Welfare Services and Juvenile Probation drew upon ideas generated from the Peer Quality Case Review, which included peer county Social Workers and Probation Officers, as well as staff and community partners from San Luis Obispo County, and the County Self-Assessment, which included parents, youth, partner agencies, community providers, and staff. In particular, the areas in need of improvement and strategies for the future from the County Self-Assessment were integrated into specific strategies for the System Improvement Plan matrix.

S1.1 No Recurrence of Maltreatment

In an effort to reduce the recurrence of maltreatment, the improvement goal for No Recurrence of Maltreatment will focus on prevention, early intervention and aftercare efforts with community partners and family advocates. Specific strategies include:

- Continue to use SafeMeasures to monitor performance and develop recommendations for improvement.
- Strengthen collaboration between Child Welfare Services and community partners.
- Enhance Structured Decision Making assessments with the integration of the Signs of Safety engagement approach.
- Strengthen Differential Response.
- Continue efforts to sustain Linkages.
- Increase the usage of Structured Decision Making assessments to identify families in need of additional support and prevention services.
- Improve the availability of father friendly resources and services.
- Expand collaboration efforts with local providers of services for substance abuse, mental health, and domestic violence.

These strategies incorporate the feedback received through both the Peer Quality Case Review and County Self-Assessment, which highlighted the need for consistent practice in regards to Structured Decision Making assessments, increased support for families, drug and alcohol services, domestic violence training and services, and engaging fathers in services.

These strategies also support the California Program Improvement Plan (PIP). Father engagement supports PIP Strategy 1: Expand use of participatory case planning strategies. The revitalization of Differential Response, which will include efforts to collaborate with community partners on Path 2 Collaborative Responses, contributes to PIP Strategy 4: Expand options and create flexibility for services and supports to meet the needs of children and families. Linkages efforts also support Strategy 4. Increasing the usage of Structured Decision Making assessments and the planned integration of Signs of Safety supports Strategy 6: Strengthen implementation of the statewide safety assessment system.

C1.1 Reunification within 12 Months (exit cohort)

In an effort to improve reunification efforts, Juvenile Probation's improvement goal is to increase the percentage of Probation youth leaving foster care to reunification within 12 months of removal from 36.4% to 54.5% or greater. Strategies to help achieve this goal include:

- Increase the frequency and quality of parent youth contact and enhance the parent youth relationship.
- Improve engagement with families and youth in the placement and reunification process by utilizing Team Decision-Making Meetings and providing additional training to placement probation officers.
- Reduce the number of out of county group home placements by increasing local group home and foster home placements, especially relative and Non-Related Extended Family Member homes.

The use of Team-Decision-Making Meetings supports PIP Strategy 1: Expand use of participatory case planning strategies. Placement recruitment effort, family engagement, and Family Finding training and efforts support Strategy 2: Sustain and enhance permanency efforts across the life of a case. Family Finding training, as well as planned trainings in family engagement and Team Decision-Making Meetings, also contributes to Strategy 5: Sustain and expand staff/supervisor training.

C4.3 Placement Stability (at least 24 months in care)

Child Welfare Services' first goal to improve placement stability is to expand recruitment efforts to augment the number of Foster Homes in targeted communities in order to increase the number of children with two or fewer placements from 40.6% to 42% over the next 3 years. To help achieve this goal, the following strategy will be implemented:

- Refine and expand the Atascadero School Placement Empowerment Network (ASPEN).

A second goal is to provide education, resource, and mentoring support to all placement homes to prevent disruption, thereby increasing the number of children with two or fewer placements from 40.7% to 42% over the next 3 years. Strategies to help achieve this goal include:

- Promote stabilization of placements by strengthening the Quality Parenting Project.
- Better support relative and Non-Relative Extended Family Member placements with training and resources.

Activities such as the expansion of ASPEN, strengthening the Quality Parenting Project, and the development of training and resources for relatives and non-related extended family members support PIP Strategy 3: Enhance and expand caregiver recruitment, retention, training and support efforts, as well as Strategy 2: Sustain and enhance permanency efforts across the life of a case.

Child Welfare Services/Probation System Improvement Plan Matrix

Outcome/Systemic Factor: S1.1 No Recurrence of Maltreatment This measure reflects the percent of children who were victims of child abuse/neglect with a subsequent substantiated report of abuse/neglect within 6 months.
County's Current Performance: Child Welfare Services' rate of no recurrence of maltreatment decreased from 96.1% in March 2010 to 90.2% (193 of 214 children) in June 2010, below the federal standard of 94.6%. As of December 2010, performance continued to be below the federal standard with a rate of 90.9% (229 of 252 children). Substance abuse continues to be a prevalent issue in San Luis Obispo County and a major cause of referrals, both initial and subsequent. Domestic Violence is also becoming another prevalent issue in San Luis Obispo County.
Improvement Goal 1.0 By October 2012, Child Welfare Services will increase the rate of No Recurrence of Maltreatment by 3.7% in order to meet the federal standard of 94.6%. In an effort to reduce the recurrence of maltreatment, Child Welfare Services will focus on prevention, early intervention and aftercare efforts with community partners and family advocates.

Outcome/Systemic Factor:C1.1 Reunification within 12 Months – exit cohort

This measure indicates the percentage of children reunified within 12 months of removal.

County's Current Performance:

As of December 2010, of 11 Probation youth leaving foster care to reunification during the year that had been in foster care for 8 days or longer, 4 were reunified in less than 12 months from the date of the latest removal from home. Probation's rate for this measure was 36.4%, compared to the federal standard of 75.2%.

Because Probation has relatively small numbers of children in foster care, one or two long term foster care cases significantly affects the rate for this measure. For example, as of 7/21/2011, 4 out of the 26 Probation foster youth in San Luis Obispo County had previously been removed from the home by Child Welfare Services at the time they entered the delinquency system. Thus they had already been in foster care for some period of time before Probation's reunification efforts commenced.

Additionally, the literature identifies children with severe behavioral issues as being delayed or failed in reunification. Probation foster youth often have severe behavioral issues that can lead to longer foster placement. For example, a child with sexual offending issues often receives specialized treatment in group home care for 18 to 24 months, which exceeds the federal benchmark for reunification. Of the aforementioned 26 youth, 7 have identified sexual offending issues.

Furthermore, the literature on reunification identifies older youth as taking longer to reunify. Of the aforementioned 26 youth, 22 are within the ages of 16-17 years old.

While these external factors are significant, Probation recognizes that improvement is needed in measure C1.1 as the most recent data report is even further below the federal standard than the previous data report.

Improvement Goal 1.0

San Luis Obispo County will increase the percentage of Probation youth leaving foster care to reunification within 12 months of removal from 36.4% to 54.5% or greater (this would be an increase from 4 out of 11 to 6 out of 11 youth when reviewing the most recent data report).

Strategy 1. 1

Increase the frequency and quality of parent youth contact and enhance the parent youth relationship.

This will be evaluated and monitored by the placement probation officers overseeing a youth's case as well as by the probation placement unit supervisor in case reviews with the officers. It will also be documented in the youth's status review reports to the court.

Research shows that reunification is more likely when parents maintain consistent and frequent visits with the child and when services are directed at enhancing or improving the parent child relationship.

Milestone	1.1.1 Collaborate with Family Resource Centers to set up video conferencing access for parents of foster youth in all three regions of the county (North County, South County and San Luis Obispo/Coast). 	1.1.2 Develop a formalized procedure for assisting families in overcoming barriers to visitation such as cost of transportation or lodging.		By 07/2012		Tom Milder, Probation Placement Supervisor
	1.1.3 Work with local service providers to develop and implement an evidence-based parenting class specifically for parents of probation youth.		By 07/2012		Mike Dutra, Probation Juvenile Division Chief Deputy
Strategy 1. 2 Improve engagement with families and youth in the placement and reunification process by utilizing Team Decision-Making Meetings and providing additional training to placement probation officers. This will be evaluated and monitored by the probation placement unit supervisor in case reviews with the placement probation officers.		<input type="checkbox"/>	CAPIT	Strategy Rationale Improving engagement with youth and family in the placement and reunification process will better identify placement alternatives, better match a youth to an appropriate placement, and develop more buy-in from the youth and family in reunification services. Research shows that a positive working relationship between the case worker and the family is related to successful reunification. Providing additional training to staff will aid in the development of these positive working relationships. These strategies will in turn increase the likelihood that a youth can be reunified in twelve months.

	1.2.3 Train placement probation officers in Family Engagement, Case Planning, and Motivational Interviewing (MI). Note: all current officers received initial Case Planning and MI training from the Research Center for Family-Focused Practice on 3/24/2011. MI refresher training is included as bi-annual requirement in the Probation Department Training Plan.		By 07/2012		Tom Milder, Probation Placement Supervisor Probation Training Officer

Strategy 1. 3 Reduce the number of out of county group home placements by increasing local group home and foster home placements, especially relative and Non-Related Extended Family Member homes. This will be evaluated and monitored by the probation placement unit supervisor reviewing the percentage of cases in out of county group home placements at least every six months by using the Probation Department Case Management System (Monitor) or CWS/CMS.		<input type="checkbox"/>	CAPIT	Strategy Rationale Probation Department records indicate 80% of current probation foster youth are placed in out of county group homes. Research shows youth placed in “congregate care” (group home and residential treatment centers) have a greater likelihood of exiting foster care without a permanent placement. Out of county homes create more barriers to meaningful parent youth contact and lead to less focus on working with the family and improving the parent youth relationship. Reducing out of county group home placements will reduce some of these barriers to timely and effective reunification.

Probation will partner with Family Resource Centers throughout San Luis Obispo County to offer access to video conferencing for Probation families.

Identify any regulatory or statutory changes needed to support the accomplishment of the improvement goals.

Outcome/Systemic Factor:C4.3 No More than Two Placements within 24 Months

This measure computes the percentage of children with two or fewer placements who have been in foster care for 24 months or more. Time in care is based on the latest date of removal from the home. The denominator is the total number of children who have been in care for 24 months or more; the numerator is the count of these children with two or fewer placements.

County's Current Performance:

As of December 2010, of the 118 children served in foster care during the year that were in foster care for at least 24 months, 48 children (40.7%) had two or fewer placement settings. While Child Welfare Services is still striving to meet the federal standard, there has been ongoing improvement since December 2007, when 30.8% of children had two or fewer placement settings. As of June 2011, Child Welfare Services current performance was 40.6%.

Improvement Goal 1.0

Child Welfare Services will expand recruitment efforts to augment the number of Foster Homes in targeted communities in order to increase the number of children with two or fewer placements from 40.6% to 42% over the next 3 years.

Strategy 1. 1 Refine and expand the Atascadero School Placement Empowerment Network (ASPEN).		<input type="checkbox"/>	CAPIT	Strategy Rationale The ASPEN program develops and maintains a network of pre-approved foster homes within school communities so that placements familiar to youth are available should the need for foster placement arise.

Child Welfare Services Outcome Improvement Project Narrative

For Juvenile Probation, Child Welfare Services Outcome Improvement Project (CWSOIP) funds will assist with helping families stay connected with youth in placement through such proposed ideas as setting up video conferencing at family resource centers and assisting with costs such as transportation or lodging for families who have financial barriers to regular visitation. Funding will assist with the development and implementation of a probation specific evidence based parenting program and Team Decision-Making Meetings. Funds will also be used to train Probation Officers in Family Finding and Family Engagement and for a specialized recruitment for placement resources for teens.

Child Welfare Services will utilize CWSOIP funds to enhance funding for existing programs. This includes the Atascadero School Placement Empowerment Network (ASPEN) program, a school based recruitment program for foster parents. Funding would support school and community recruitment events throughout the year. Other existing programs to benefit from CWSOIP funding include Differential Response and Linkages. Funds will support training and the development of tools to support staff in both Differential Response and Linkages efforts. Additionally, funding will provide cross-training opportunities between staff and community partners to enhance collaboration in the support of prevention, early intervention, and aftercare strategies. These strategies include both Differential Response and Linkages.

Funding will also be used to establish new Child Welfare Services programs and procedures, such as the foster parent peer mentoring program. The goal of this program is to provide stability and reduce placement moves. Funds will be used to provide stipends to compensate mentors who are willing to provide support to new caregivers. Funding will also be used for training as Child Welfare Services integrates Signs of Safety with Structured Decision Making. In addition, CWSOIP funding will aid in the development of father friendly services and family engagement efforts.

CAPIT/CBCAP/PSSF Plan

County System Improvement Plan Team Composition

The San Luis Obispo County Self-Assessment and System Improvement Plan planning team was comprised of representatives from Child Welfare Services, Juvenile Probation Services, Children's Services Network, San Luis Obispo Child Abuse Prevention Council (SLO-CAP), Mental Health, Family Care Network, California Youth Connection and parent representatives. The Children's Services Program Manager and SLO-CAP Director served as the representatives for Child Abuse Prevention, Intervention, and Treatment (CAPIT), Promoting Safe and Stable Families (PSSF), and Community Based Child Abuse Prevention (CBCAP). See Attachment 3 for the complete roster.

Child Abuse Prevention Council

The San Luis Obispo County Child Abuse Prevention Council (SLO-CAP), a non-profit 501(c)3 organization is governed by a Board of Directors composed of representatives from county agencies, community-based groups and parent/consumers of services. Using non-profit principles, SLO-CAP fosters public/private partnerships to strengthen child abuse prevention programs and find ways to leverage CBCAP and Children's Trust Fund with private donations, grants, and fund raising activities to support and launch child abuse prevention initiatives. A Child Welfare Services Program Manager and a member of the California State Parent Team serve as liaisons on the SLO-CAP Board of Directors. In addition, the SLO-CAP Executive Director works closely with the Child Welfare Services Program Manager to deliver Mandated Reporter of Suspected Child Abuse presentations throughout the county.

The SLO-CAP organization provides the leadership required to forge community partnerships and to build strategies in the child abuse prevention and family strengthening field. By providing coordination expertise, SLO-CAP brings county agencies, family resource centers, service providers, and the public together in a county-wide collaborative approach. A roster for the Child Abuse Prevention Council is included as Attachment 5.

Relevant funding for the Child Abuse Prevention Council is listed below:

Fund	Dollar Amount
Child Abuse Prevention, Intervention, and Treatment (CAPIT)	----
Community Based Child Abuse Prevention (CBCAP)	$17,300
Counties Children's Trust Fund (CCTF)	$47,000
Kids Plate	$7,000
Promoting Safe and Stable Families (PSSF)	-----

Promoting Safe and Stable Families (PSSF) Collaborative

The PSSF collaborative is comprised of participants from the County Self-Assessment and System Improvement Plan process including program managers from the prevention, case management, and foster care/adoptions areas of Child Welfare Services, a Juvenile Probation Placement Supervisor, the Children's Services Network Manager, and the SLO-CAP Executive Director, prevention service providers, foster youth, and parents. See Attachment 4 for the complete roster.

Counties Children's Trust Fund Commission, Board, or Council

In 2003, the San Luis Obispo County Board of Supervisors, via resolution, designated the Children's Services Network as the Children's Trust Fund commission. In 2005, the San Luis Obispo County Board of Supervisors, via resolution, approved the direct transfer of Children's Trust Fund monies and responsibilities from the Children's Services Network to SLO-CAP (see Attachment 5 for the SLO-CAP roster). Children's Services Network collects Children's Trust Fund information from SLO-CAP and reports it via the annual report to the State. SLO-CAP publishes Children's Trust Fund information via an annual report to its Board of Directors and postings to its website.

The Children's Trust Fund supports the executive leadership and administrative services required to provide county-wide educational programs for children and teens, such as Talking about Touching child safety training and Real Care Parenting which addresses the consequences of teen parenting. It supports trainings such as Mandated Reporter of Suspected Child Abuse Training, the Child Abuse Prevention Academy, Public Forums, and leadership and fiscal agent services for the evolving Family Resource Center Network. The Children's Trust Fund also supports public awareness and public education efforts including fiscal agent services for Child Abuse Prevention Month activities as Children's Day in the Plaza and declaring Child Abuse Prevention Month via a public proclamation by the County Board of Supervisors. The Children's Trust Fund, in combination with private donations, also supports maintenance of the SLO-CAP operations and website (www.slocap.org).

Parent Consumers

SLO-CAP leads a county-wide effort to engage Parent Consumers on the following community activities:

- A member of the California State Parent Team serves as a liaison on the SLO-CAP Board of Directors
- Parent Consumers are offered the Together We Will - Parent Leadership Academy to increase their knowledge of community planning systems and improve their communication skills. Graduates of the Academy serve on Family Resource Center Advisory Councils, become more engaged with their child's school, represent the county at state-wide convenings and participate in the County Self-Assessment and System Improvement Plan planning process. Stipends are offered to parent consumers to offset the cost of child care and transportation to and from meetings.

In June 2012, Together We Will - Parent Leadership Academy alumni were introduced to Partnership for Excellence in Family Support, a network of Family Resource Centers.

Designated Public Agency

The San Luis Obispo County Department of Social Services is the designated public agency charged with the administration and oversight of Child Abuse Prevention, Intervention, and Treatment (CAPIT), Community Based Child Abuse Prevention (CBCAP), and Promoting Safe and Stable Families (PSSF) funds. The Department of Social Services delegates this authority to the Children's Services Network with San Luis Obispo County Board of Supervisors approval. Children's Services Network is a community collaborative comprised of 15 directors of public agencies and key community leaders involved in health, welfare, and educational services to children, youth, and families. The County Board of Supervisors established the Children's Services Network in 1992 as the Interagency Children's Services Coordinating Council (SB997) responsible for developing a comprehensive and collaborative delivery system of services to children and youth. Children's Services Network is responsible for allocating CAPIT and PSSF funds in coordination with the Department of Social Services, which is the fiscal agent for the Children's Services Network. The Department of Social Services is also the employer of record for the Children's Services Network Manager who serves as the County's CAPIT and PSSF liaison as well as contract management and fiscal staff that administer the funds.

Role of CAPIT/CBCAP/PSSF Liaison

The CAPIT/CBCAP/PSSF liaison is responsible for both fiscal and administrative tasks related to child abuse prevention funds. The liaison's responsibilities include coordinating the competitive procurement process, including the development of Request for Proposals, developing scope of work and budgets in consultation with non-profit subcontractors, collecting data, and reporting on activities and outcomes to the Children's Services Network, Board of Supervisors, and the State. The liaison also provides technical assistance to subcontractors and will engage subcontractors in quality assurance activities during the upcoming plan term.

Quality assurance activities include the implementation of annual subcontractor monitoring comprised of the following:

- Scheduling annual reviews of each subcontractor agency
- Annual site visits to each subcontractor
- Review of monitoring guide that subcontractor completes
- Issuance of report on findings from the review including acknowledgement of accomplishments as well as identification of any deficiencies/concerns. The report will provide recommendations for correction and identify a date by which concerns will be addressed.
- Quarterly performance reporting on outputs and outcomes for all recipients of CAPIT and PSSF funds. CBCAP recipient will report annually.
- Implementation of uniform invoice for all subcontractors which clearly identifies the funding source and activities provided
- Client satisfaction surveys for CAPIT, CBCAP, and PSSF programs

The team will also explore options for improved data tracking and reporting as part of this process.

Fiscal Narrative

The Children's Services Network Manager works with Department of Social Services' Fiscal staff to establish grant budgets and make sure that all funding is expended timely and in the correct category. The grant budgets include applicable program charge codes and the amount to be expended in each code, as determined by the planning body. Invoices go to the Children's Services Network Manager for review and are forwarded to accounting staff for payment. The Department of Social Services' Fiscal staff follows County and State procedures for tracking, storing and disseminating fiscal data by program and for claiming expenses.

The SLO-CAP organization builds county-wide partnerships and manages the Partnership for Excellence in Family Support, a network of Family Resource Centers for the purpose of leveraging resources and funding support. By working together in a collaborative manner we provide accessible and efficient service delivery for the families and communities of San Luis Obispo County. SLO-CAP leverages the allocation by soliciting donations, pursuing grants, and fundraising to strengthen the aforementioned child abuse prevention advocacy efforts and projects.

San Luis Obispo County ensures that the CAPIT/CBCAP/PSSF funds will supplement and not supplant other Child Welfare Services funding. This language is included in the Request for Proposal issued for both CAPIT and PSSF funds. The Request for Proposal process is outlined below.

Local Agencies – Request for Proposal

CAPIT and PSSF funds will be awarded to eligible agencies in response to a Request for Proposal to provide services identified as needed in support of Child Welfare Services and Probation outcomes that are the focus of the System Improvement Plan:

1. No Recurrence Of Maltreatment (Child Welfare Services) – CAPIT/PSSF funds
2. Reunification within 12 months – exit cohort (Probation) – PSSF funds only
3. No more than 2 placements within 24 months (Child Welfare Services) – CAPIT/PSSF funds

The Request for Proposal will be open to all community based organizations serving children, youth, and families. The Request for Proposal will be issued through the established County process, using the Department of Social Services as the contracting/fiscal agent and will be posted on the County's website. A sub-committee of the Children's Services Network developed the Request for Proposal and will participate in the evaluation process. Private, nonprofit agencies with programs serving the needs of children at risk of abuse or neglect will receive priority for funding. Priority for services will be given to children who are at high risk, including children being served by Child Welfare Services. Proposals must reflect an appreciation for family strengthening principles as well as demonstrate a link to the five protective factors. San Luis Obispo County complies with all required assurances related to these funds. The assurances are included in Attachment 6.

CBCAP Outcomes

CBCAP primarily funds the Together We Will - Parent Shared Leadership program in San Luis Obispo County. This is the only direct service funded by CBCAP. Outcomes for the project are evaluated and measured as outlined in the attached scope of work for the program. Please refer to Attachment 8.

Peer Review

Peer Review is a designated activity of the Partnership for Excellence in Family Support, San Luis Obispo County's family resource center network. The Partnership for Excellence in Family Support leadership plans and schedules local peer review trainings. They also ensure that partner organization including those funded by CAPIT and PSSF actively engage in the peer review process on a biennial basis. The CAPIT/PSSF Request for Proposal stipulates that all funded agencies are required to participate in peer review activities. The Children's Services Network Manager actively participates in meetings, trainings, and on review teams.

Service Array

As identified in the County Self-Assessment, a broad range of community based organizations, non-profits, and public agencies provide prevention and early intervention services in San Luis Obispo County. To ensure that CAPIT/CBCAP/PSSF funded services are coordinated with the array of services available in the County, the System Improvement Plan planning team agreed to require that agencies receiving such funds maintain membership and participation in the county's family resource center network. SLO-CAP is responsible for convening the Partnership for Excellence in Family Support. Partnership for Excellence in Family Support is the county's family resource center network, in which the Children's Services Network Manager and a Child Welfare Services Program Manager participate. Fourteen of the 18 identified family strengthening organizations in San Luis Obispo County are members of Partnership for Excellence in Family Support. Partnership for Excellence in Family Support is intended to coordinate family strengthening services and child abuse and neglect prevention resources throughout the county. The cost of convening the network is partially funded by CBCAP funds. Partnership for Excellence in Family Support has identified five core projects:

- Family Development Matrix – the Family Development Matrix project coordinator recruits, orients, and trains new agency partners on this data collection tool in an effort to streamline family support processes and case management tools for CAPIT and PSSF recipients. The CAPIT/PSSF Request for Proposal mandates utilization of the Family Development Matrix for all funded agencies.
- Parent Connection – the Parent Connection project coordinator ensures delivery of parent education programs supports parent coaching series, and monitors and evaluates parent education resources provided through the Parent Connection. The project coordinator also provides guidance to Parent Connection on content of the website, materials, and curricula.
- The Parent Engagement/Leadership portion of Partnership for Excellence in Family Support is responsible for planning, implementing, and integrating Together We Will – Parent Shared Leadership into the community. This will further support engagement of parents on advisory councils, evaluation workgroups, etc.
- Peer Review – Each PSSF and CAPIT recipient agency has participated in Peer Review with another family resource center in either San Luis Obispo County or the Tri-Counties area that includes Santa Barbara and Ventura counties.
- Staff Development – activities include identifying unmet staff needs, monitoring core staff development needs, and planning for and scheduling local trainings.

Additionally, CAPIT and PSSF funded agencies will participate in quarterly interagency meetings coordinated by a Child Welfare Services Program Manager. These meetings are for the purposes discussing available services, news and announcements, and the referral process among agencies and are attended by a broad range of community based organizations, public agencies, and other interested parties involved in the field of prevention. Participation in the meetings will insure that CAPIT/PSSF recipients are aware of the array of prevention services in the community and further coordination among agencies.

Family Resource Network - Partnership for Excellence in Family Support (CBCAP)

Training and technical assistance for vendors/contractors and parent liaisons is provided through Partnership for Excellence in Family Support. Partnership for Excellence in Family Support has identified five core projects:

- Family Development Matrix – the Family Development Matrix project coordinator recruits, orients, and trains new agency partners on this data collection tool in an effort to streamline family support processes and case management tools for CAPIT and PSSF recipients.
- Parent Connection – the Parent Connection project coordinator ensures delivery of parent education programs, supports parent coaching series, and monitors and evaluates parent education resources provided through the Parent Connection. The project coordinator also provides guidance to Parent Connection on content of the website, materials, and curricula.
- The Parent Engagement/Leadership portion of Partnership for Excellence in Family Support is responsible for planning, implementing, and integrating Together We Will – Parent Shared Leadership into the community. This will further support engagement of parents on advisory councils, evaluation workgroups, etc.
- Peer Review – the Peer Review lead is responsible for planning and scheduling peer review trainings, as well as ensuring that partner agencies actively engage in the peer review process. Each PSSF and CAPIT recipient agency has participated in Peer Review with another family resource center in either San Luis Obispo County or the Tri-Counties area that includes Santa Barbara and Ventura counties.
- Staff Development – activities include identifying unmet staff needs, monitoring core staff development needs, and planning for and scheduling local trainings.

Parent Shared Leadership Academy - Together We Will (CBCAP)

Parent Leadership Academy – Together We Will is an emerging 12-week leadership-training program, in collaboration with North and South Region family resource centers. This program provides parents and agency leaders with the tools to work together constructively. Parents are empowered to engage in system planning, improve family functioning, and improve systems via the development of integrated, consumer-oriented, and accessible services. The program is available in both English and Spanish.

Family Preservation Services (PSSF)

Family Support Services (PSSF)

Time-Limited Reunification Services (PSSF)

Adoption promotion services (PSSF)

Services to Keep Kids free of abuse & neglect (CAPIT)

For the above funding sources, the county will be issuing a Request for Proposal to be released in early September 2011. The county expects to execute service agreements by the end of October 2011. The county has evaluated the needs of Child Welfare Services, Probation, and the needs of children and families who are risk of child abuse and neglect and has identified the unmet needs and outcomes that these proposals will focus. Unmet needs are identified in the Expenditures Workbook and can be referenced in the County Self-Assessment. The outcomes that have been identified that will be used to weigh the proposals are:

1. No Recurrence of Maltreatment or Neglect (Child Welfare Services)
2. Reunification within 12 months – exit cohort (Probation)
3. No more than 2 placements within 24 months (Child Welfare Services)

The Request for Proposal will contain the various activities/services that are eligible for their respective funding sources as well as the assurances required. The Request for Proposal does not dictate a specific program/practice as the county plans to review the proposals based on scope of work and outcomes proposed. The funding period will be from October 29, 2011, to June 30, 2012 with the caveat that grantees who successfully meet their proposed outcomes may be renewed for the following fiscal year. Applicants are expected to propose how services will align with the five Protective Factors and must become a member of the Partnership for Excellence in Family Support family resource center network to ensure that child abuse prevention and intervention services are coordinated within the county. Upon execution of the service agreement, San Luis Obispo County agrees to submit a revised workbook and program descriptions to the Office of Child Abuse and Prevention no later than December 30, 2011.
